This beautifully illustrated book follows the story of two bunnies, Pyotr and Mishka, who are best friends. They love to play together, cuddle together, and share everything. But one day, Pyotr starts to feel lonely. He misses Mishka when he's at work, and he wishes he had someone to love him all the time.

One day, Pyotr meets a new bunny named Anya. Anya is kind, funny, and she loves to cuddle. Pyotr and Anya quickly become friends, and Pyotr starts to feel less lonely. But even though he has a new friend, Pyotr still misses Mishka.

One day, Pyotr and Anya are playing in the forest when they come across a group of other bunnies. The bunnies are all different sizes, shapes, and colors, but they all have one thing in common: they're all lonely.

Pyotr and Anya invite the lonely bunnies to join them, and soon they're all playing and cuddling together. Pyotr realizes that he doesn't need just one bunny to love. He can love all of his friends, and they can all love him back.
